Mail Truck Robbery:

BIGGEST CASH HAUL NETS $1.5 MILLION

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP) — An eight-man bandit gang looted a U.S. mail truck Tuesday night and escaped with $1.5 million—the nation's biggest cash haul. It surpassed the 1960 Brink's $1,219,000 robbery in Boston.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, to which the money was consigned from Cape Cod banks, reported the amount taken. Chief Postal Inspector William F. White of Boston concurred.

The Federal Reserve bank made it clear the money was its responsibility and that the Cape Cod member banks would stand no losses on shipments made in compliance with applicable rules.

Well-Rehearsed The holdup team, well-rehearsed and acting with precision and speed, was spearheaded by a man in police uniform. It was he who caught the two men on the mail truck off guard.

As the mail truck proceeded along Route 3, a bypass in Plymouth, a car sped by it. Other bandit cars had set up detour signs behind the truck to keep motorists from using the highway while the holdup was in progress.

One holdup car stood in the breakdown lane and a second car faced out at an angle. One car bore a registration tag stolen in Revere, Mass., May 2.

As the mail truck approached, the make-believe policeman signaled the truck to halt. When Patrol R. Schena, the driver, slowed down, other gunmen slid into the roadway with menacing submachine guns.

Schena and his fellow guard, William F. Barrett, were tied and forced into the rear of the truck. Some of the gunmen got in the truck and made three stops on the highway northward.

Toss Out Bags Each time they stopped they tossed out some of the sealed bags containing the money. There were about 16 bags in all.

Schena accompanied postal inspectors later in the day, starting at the point of the holdup and re-tracing the trail north, about 25 miles to Randolph, where the gunmen left the truck. They also abandoned two automobiles previously stolen.

Possibility of finding fingerprints appeared remote as the gunmen all wore white gloves.

Bartlett told police: "We were driving along, and the first thing we knew a car passed us at about 80 miles an hour. Then a police officer — we thought he was stopped out on the road and flagged us down."

"We noticed there were a couple of cars beside the road, and we thought there might be an accident. As soon as we stopped, these four guys jumped us. They weren't wearing masks, but we couldn't see their faces."

Leap Into Truck

"They leaped into the truck and shoved us in back. They told us, 'keep quiet and don't say anything.' Then we were tied up. We just sat there until they finally got out and left us."

The guards said the holdup occurred about 8 p.m. Tuesday and they untied themselves and got to a telephone about 10 p.m.

Investigators believed at least three other robbers were involved.

The guards told police one of the bandits was called Tony and another Buster.

One investigator put no credence in reports that two notorious bank robbers high on the FBI's most wanted list may have taken part in the holdup.

Albert (Bump) Nussbaum, 28, and Bobby (One Eye) Wilcoxon, 33, were reported in this area in May.

The two guards could not identify pictures of Nussbaum and Wilcoxon as any of the bandits.

Soviet Doubleheaders Land Safely

Worldwide Reaction

LONDON (AP)—World leaders hailed the successful end Wednesday of the long voyage of the Soviet space twins. And a Briton said the Russians now are so far ahead in space that the United States is unlikely to catch up in the next 10 years.

Radio stations in Europe broke into regular broadcasts to give the news of the landing of Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich after their historic flight in twin space ships said to weigh more than eight tons each. Previous Soviet manned space craft have been listed at about five tons.

The space flight brought out headlines in Western Europe along with the praise from Western leaders, but there was some uneasiness expressed.

"The American scientific technology is strained to the utmost but in spite of that, not only has very little progress been made in reducing the leeway but we now have these further astonishing events of the last few days," said Sir Bernard Lovell.

Clear Military Lead

Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank radio astronomy observatory, said the Russians have established a clear military lead in space.

President Kennedy messaged his congratulations to Premier Krushchev.

But in London, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower disagreed with the theory that the Russians "have a space lead or that there is a gap."

Eisenhower told a news conference the Russians engage in "all kinds of spectacles" while the United States has a steady program that will one day lead to the moon.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan interrupted his gorse shooting vacation on the Yorkshire moors to cable congratulations to Krushchev.

Premier Tage Erlander of Sweden hailed the flight as "another important step toward the use of outer space for peaceful purposes." He cabled congratulations to Krushchev.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan interrupted his gorse shooting vacation on the Yorkshire moors to cable congratulations to Krushchev.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made the statement at a news conference.

"I think that we will make the manned lunar landing before they do," Webb said.

The same confidence was expressed by Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of NASA, who indicated he believes the United States would achieve be-

Moscow Lauds Feat; Goes Wild With Joy

MOSCOW (AP) — With their twin astronauts safely a ground, Russians rejoiced Wednesday at fresh proof of their lead in space and forecast men will visit the moon, Mars and Venus before 1980.

Workers tidied up Red Square into regular broadcasts to give the news of the landing of Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, who landed six minutes apart in Kazakhstan after orbital journeys totaling nearly three million miles.

Everybody expects a big parade. Perhaps it will be Sunday, perhaps earlier.

A group of young Muscovites couldn't wait. They set out carrying big portraits of all four Soviet astronauts and placards with the inscription: "Glory to the explorers of the universe!"

"Cosmos! Cosmos! Cosmos!" they shouted.

A congratulatory message from the Kremlin to all who had a part in the group flight hailed it as a new and magnificent victory in the conquest of space and added a cold war note: "Forward to the victory of communism!"

Four Days In Space

Nikolayev had been nearly four full days and Popovich nearly three days in weightless orbit when their space ships slipped back into the earth's atmosphere and landed in the hill and desert country south of Karaganda, a Kazakhstan city 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Nikolayev landed aboard his Vostok III at 9:55 a.m. Moscow time and Popovich landed aboard his Vostok IV at 10:01 a.m., "in direct proximity with the planned points of landing."

The statement that both men were on board their craft at the time indicated the use of parachutes as well as land impact gear.

The Soviet space pioneer, Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin, said he participated in a landing within the earth's atmosphere and landed in the hill and desert country south of Karaganda, a Kazakhstan city 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow.

Eastburg Area Schools Set To Open Doors On Sept. 5

EAST Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools will open for the 1962-1963 term on Wednesday, Sept. 5. This includes both elementary and secondary students.

Students in the elementary section will find that there have been some changes in Smithfield Township School. The former music room has been transformed into a new second grade classroom. And the former teachers room will house the primary special class.

At J. M. Hill school, Mrs. Jean Blythewood and Mrs. Elva Tinney will introduce themselves to the two first grade classes. Miss Rose Nills will be teaching a second grade class and Mrs. Norma Roberts is the new third grade teacher.

Mrs. Hazel West will teach first graders at the Smithfield School and Mrs. Edna Watson will handle the teaching of fifth grade for the first semester. She is substituting for Jerome T. Rine, who is presently serving in the Armed Forces. He will return for the second semester.

Also at the J. M. Hill school, a library workroom and office has been installed to aid the efficiency of the new library.

Doing Children No Good Driving

BOSTON (AP) — You're doing your children no good by driving them to school.

At least that's the opinion of the American Automobile Association. The Association says that far too many child injuries and fatalities have resulted from careless practices of parents driving their children to school.

Walking to school teaches children self-reliance and provides good exercise, the AAA points out.

Schedule For Buses Ready

BUS schedules for East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools will be finalized at a meeting Wednesday, Aug. 22 in the board room of the high school, Carl T. Secor, supervising principal, has announced.

There are no major changes planned although new stops will be added for new children and there will be arrangements made for the kindergarten children.

The bus routes will be made public as soon as they are final, Secor said.

A Century Of Service

July 28th marked a really important anniversary in this country. On that day, exactly a century before, the first experimental railroad postal car in America—complete with sorting racks, pigeonholes and a little iron stove—was put in service between Hannibal and St. Joseph, Missouri.

In the ensuing 100 years, there has been a vast revolution in the nation's communications—and that lone rail car was the pioneer. Today 1,844 railway postal cars, requiring some 10,500 Post Office Department employees, carry some 25 billion pieces of mail each year. The railroads have invested more than a billion dollars in mail handling equipment, ranging from simple track-side cranes at small stations, from which single pouches are picked up by trains on-the-fly, to elaborate electronic installations at major cities.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Mean Mr. Meany

Maybe President George Meany of the AFL-CIO is being altogether too mean to his fellow unionists in planning a campaign to reduce the average work week from 40 hours to only 35.

The shorter week theory, which is embraced by a number of union leaders, holds that a cut to 35 hours will put more people to work—that employers will need to hire more workers in order to keep production at levels a 40-hour week makes possible.

Now if this theory is sound, why not magnanimously campaign for whacking the work week in half, to 20 hours? Theoretically, that would make it necessary to double the work force. And to do that the nation would probably have to call on women and children and bring men out of retirement in order to keep industrial output anywhere near present levels.

That, to be sure, sounds absurd, but it isn't any more absurd than the idea that by getting Congress to pass a law making a 35-hour week standard, somehow the unemployment problem is going to be solved.

A lot of union leaders and their followers seem to believe the 40-hour week came about because Congress one day decided to declare that to be the statutory work week. But all Congress actually did was to recognize that a reduction in the work week had become possible through increased productivity, which in turn came about as a result of increased investment per employee in plant and operating equipment. Without that investment and added productivity, a 40-hour week would have been economically unworkable.

Since productivity can't be legislated, it follows that a work week of 35, 30 or 20 hours can't be legislated, either, in the absence of compensating productivity gains.

The drive for a shorter work week may have the appearance of a "more jobs" campaign, but what it comes down to is a plan to get more pay for less work. And that is the same thing as saying more cost for less work.

The employer who is thus saddled with more costs than he can absorb or pass on to his customers is in trouble. He not only isn't going to hire more workers; he's also in danger of going out of business and ceasing to be an employer of anybody.

Foreign Policy Debate

Perhaps for the first time since 1933, a genuine foreign policy debate has been continuous in the United States Senate. There was a possibility, years ago, of such a debate when Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, led the Republicans, but Vandenberg, an isolationist, joined the forces of the internationalists.

Curiously, in the present debate, it is a Democrat whose voice is most constantly raised against a foreign policy which has often produced marked failure. Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, a Democrat, has, in his first term in the Senate, made an astonishingly significant reputation for scholarship and profound penetration into foreign policy.

Usually, a first term Senator does not have too much to say and more often he does not say anything controversial because he is not sure of himself. Surprisingly Senator Dodd has stepped forward as a positive personality, strong in his convictions, certain of his purposes.

Recently, Lyle Munson, who runs "The Bookmaker," Inc., edited and published a number of Senator Dodd's speeches in a book which covers a wide range of subjects.

Describing our national purpose, Senator Dodd said:

"To the peoples of Europe . . . patriotism has its roots in the past and represents a love of all the similarities and things shared in common with their countrymen. But we in America, in the early years of our nation, had no past. We had more differences than similarities. Our people had no common history except that of escape from the histories of a score of other nations.

"We had no common religion except a heritage of seeking religious freedom. We had no common tongue, no common nationality, no national music or art, no folk tales, no national literature except for the political writings of our founding fathers.

"All that we had in common with which to mold a united nation, was a new set of ideas, of attitudes, of institutions; untried, unproved, yet having the versatility of expressing the ancient hopes and yearnings of mankind for a better and fuller life. And we shared together a new virgin continent upon which we could try out our experiment."

The question then is: what is this experiment to produce? Surely, if the American experiment is to mean nothing more than a high standard of living—more automobiles, more iceboxes, more steaks—the terrific cost in human effort was not worthwhile. Senator Dodd answers:

"That the state exists to serve man and that man's liberty, his property, his family and his individual rights are above and beyond the reach of the state; that every man should have a fair chance to succeed or to fail on his own, a square deal; a clear field;

"That every man should be able to speak his piece without fear or reprisal;

"That every man should have an equal voice in choosing those who govern him; . . ."

Writing of our enemy, Senator Dodd wrote:

"Perhaps the most popular of those who minimize the evils of Communism is that we cannot look at the world scene in terms of 'black and white,' which of course carries the implication that both the Free World and the Communist World are at fault for the present danger and that each side has its good points and its bad points. I willingly concede our bad points, but I have never been able to discover the good points of communism."

Speaking of anti-Semitism, Senator Dodd said:

"By their statements both Marx and Hitler have made it clear that any movement which sets out to persecute Judaism inevitably winds up by rejecting and persecuting Christianity."

"As free men who worship God, we cannot ignore the existence of anti-Semitism, even on a small scale, in this country or in other countries. We cannot ignore the desecration of a single synagogue, any more than we can ignore the taking of a single life."

This has so often been proved true. In the universal secularism which is attacking the minds of men in this particular era, an attack on any religious concept only too often is an attack upon all religions of God. Anti-Semitism is, for instance, being most fiercely propagated at the present time in Soviet Russia and in most of the countries of the Soviet Universal State.

Soviet Russia is an utterly secular country pursuing the mandate that religion is an opiate for the people. Destroying the Jews, as a religion, can only be a forerunner of closing down all Christian churches as unnecessary and purposeless.

In grasping this essential characteristic of the Communist struggle for supremacy Senator Dodd has made a valuable contribution to the discussion of this subject.

The Pennsylvania Story

State Supreme Court Contest

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — Worth watching closely this fall will be the contest for the seat on the State Supreme Court.

Ordinarily judicial contests are not lively affairs. In fact, compared with run-of-the-mill campaigns they are anything but spirited events.

Fundamentally this is due to the growing conviction that judicial posts — especially those involving the State Superior Court or State Supreme Court — should be left more outside the realm of down to earth muck-mash campaigns.

"Lofty campaign" is the descriptive term used by some of the old line party pros on both sides of the fence.

Campaign year 1962 in Pennsylvania may find some of the "lofty" tint wiped from the window pane in the judicial race this year.

To begin with, the State Supreme Court post to be filled was not a "scheduled vacancy" — that is, it was created by death of Justice Curtis Bok last May.

Thus this year the high court contest falls within the orbit of the quadrennial governorship — U. S. senatorial scramble which is destined to be rough, tough — and relentless.

Both Democrats and Republicans have their hides at stake in the November showdown.

Both for the first time within the past quarter century are a fairly even-steven level insomuch as chances of emerging the victor are concerned.

Into this turmoil, the bitter power fight for each, has been dropped what would normally be a sedate contest for the State Supreme Court post.

It was only over the past week that the Republican State Committee came out with full-blown endorsement of a GOP candidate for the post — Judge Samuel J. Roberts, of Erie.

Democrats on the other hand still haven't made known their choice — and will not until their state committee meets.

In a sense the current "sudden need" for Supreme Court slating on a special basis — that is, selection of respective candidates by the two state committees rather than through the normal elective process — is a curious throwback to just four years ago and the last gubernatorial-senatorial contest.

In 1958 it will be recalled, the then Supreme Court Justice and former State Attorney General John Reynolds, the party's candidate for governor, has openly differed with Nelson on a hot tax issue; and volatile Democratic Senator William Proxmire and the Kennedy administration so far have given few indications of enthusiasm for Nelson.

This is one of the strangest aspects of this Senate race.

Helping The Other Guy — While the administration and Proxmire haven't come out for Wiley, they have done nothing against him.

In fact, in one instance the administration gave him a decided helpful boost.

One of Governor Nelson's principal campaign planks is his countering this, Vice President Lyndon Johnson appointed Senator Wiley to the National Forest Reservation Commission, which makes policy on federal forest lands. And that wasn't all.

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

A woman who has devoted her entire life to spiralling the cultural background of the Pocono Mountains is down but not out.

We're referring to Miss Dorothy Liseite, a teacher-performer in the musical world, who just a month ago received a jolt that would send most of us for the crying towel.

But such is not so in the case of Miss Liseite who lost a leg via a freak mishap which blighted sadly with an affliction that left the Stroudsburg resident on the ropes.

However, more than a few friends have rallied to the side of the former Roxy Theatre star and the voice which has been heard by thousands up Toronto and Buffalo way.

A campaign to help alleviate financial problems which have beset Miss Liseite is under way in the county. A look at the first returns — $528 — indicates that friends, students, acquaintances and concerned are pulling 100 per cent for the physical and mental recovery of the individual who has raised the ministry of music in a area churches to a spot it rightfully belongs.

Proud and frank Dorothy doesn't like the situation she is in. And apparently her friends don't either. Especially when you hear the response verbally and now financially for the tutor of hundreds in voice and piano.

We are in a cynical world. Often it takes a jolt to move our feelings. A case like the Dorothy Liseite misfortune is just one of those magnets which draws out the best in us.

If you survey the situations like the Miss Liseite setback you come to realize that all of us — individually — are dependent on one another. Taking part ourselves we will find that somewhere along the trail another has lent a most welcome hand. No one we are sure made it all the way by his or her lonesome.

Perhaps if we put ourselves in Miss Liseite's place before friends took the initiative we would be scanning the terrain and wonder "What's to become of me?" No doubt she felt the same way. But now there is hope if

Simple Brochure Opens Door To Big Business To Poconos

By Bob Clark
Daily Record City Editor
(First In A Series)

TAMIMENT — A simple brochure extolling the facilities of an area resort may have opened the door for the Pocono Mountains to become one of the leading convention sites in the nation.

The glossy handout, the type of material which so often finds its way into a wastebasket, eventually found its way into the hands of the top brass of public relations of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, Mich.

The brochure came from Tamiment's spreading hotel which occupies a city high above Bushkill.

What the hierarchy of Chrysler saw they liked as plans got underway to establish an Eastern showhouse for their "Prevue" of 1963 cars and trucks.

Chrysler officials, men dedicated to making the corporation the ninth largest in the United States, conferred with Ben Josephson, Tamiment's generalissimo, and turned the soil to what now is the biggest "operational" convention setup ever to blend with the mountains of the Poconos.

Six Months Planning

The Bob Vaughan (manager of Chrysler's special events command) and Josephson parley was back in March. Since then the wheels of the largest car preview ever to invade the Poconos have been in motion.

Six months of planning, replanning, and replanning the planning geared the show to the Barnum vintage, "Greatest Show On Earth."

It was not all roses for either giant Chrysler nor Josephson's Tamiment. The Detroit-based corporation wanted, demanded and eventually got the best. But Josephson and his veteran staff had to cut corners here, slice edges there and in general cut the cake down the middle to make both Chrysler (300 persons) and his 300 guests all happy at the same time.

This was done with a minimum of teeth pulling. Chrysler came in, took over and are running their Press-TV-Radio Preview in such a manner that even the guests are taking the form of "first nighters" at a Broadway opening.

Josephson, a 40-year leader in Tamiment's operations, sees the Chrysler move the key to bigger and better things for the Poconos.

No One Can Sit Still

The Tamiment boss thinks in the same vein as Chrysler's boyish-looking, 43-year-old president, Glen Townsend. Townsend and Josephson agree no one can sit still in this day and age and let the sparks fly where they may. "New thoughts and ideas" must be put in force to keep pace with the changing world, Josephson points out. Thus, you have the happy Chrysler-Tamiment relation.

The Chrysler-Tamiment merger for this preview indicates that the Poconos will come off the limited convention margin and go seeking bigger fish to fry.

To set up its Tamiment operation, Chrysler went into huddles with Western Union, Bell Telephone, Metropolitan-Edison and other utilities to make the communications road easier to travel.

The press had to have electric typewriters, phones, wire service, etc., radio men and women got extra power lines, a studio, tape recorders, and video personnel received studios, recorders, background and every other facet to make a good program better.

Commercials For TV

Encouraged by the excellent natural background provided by the Poconos, television and Chrysler aides decided to film all of the commercials for this year's fall

To Fix Field Lighting System

Stroud Union Hires Teacher

MRS. ROBERTA Thomas was hired as a teacher at an annual salary of $5,100 by the Stroud Union School Board at a meeting last night.

It was reported by Robert Nau-man, electrical worker, that it would take three men working 16 hours at a cost of $300 per pole to do the work on the lighting system at Gordon Giffels Field.

The board voted to repair two poles, repair bad sockets and replace light bulbs as needed.

It was reported that construction at Morey and Clearview Elementary Schools are not completed for the Fall term. The kitchen at the Hamilton School will be completed by Sept. 5, the board learned. The other two will be completed in time for school.

The board accepted the resignation of Bruce P. Frassineti, French teacher. Two additions were made to the substitute teacher's list. They were Mrs. Christine Clark DeHaven and Mrs. Jack Gregory.

In other business, John Baynor and Robert Helmuth were appointed to a committee to work with Olenick and Odzer who own the old Worthington buildings to effect a tax reduction.

The Department of Public Instruction has approved the site of the high school addition.

Two custodians were hired, Paul S. Goucher for the high school custodial force, and Harry A. Shoemaker at Hamilton Township. Annual salaries will be $2,800.

Bennett Waives Hearing

ADRIAN Maurice Bennett, 35, Millroy, waived a hearing on a rape charge yesterday and was returned to Monroe County Jail to await court action.

Bennett pleaded innocent to charges of assault and battery and was remanded under $1,500 bail. No ball was set on the rape charge.

Bennett appeared before John C. F. Foelker, Stroudsburg County probation and domestic relations officer, said he received the check, drawn on the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., Stroudsburg, on July 11. It was returned to the probation officer a week later with a note informing Taglang that Allen's account contained insufficient funds to cover the check.

Allen had been ordered to pay $65 a month for the children's support, with part of the payment to be applied to an amount he owed on a previous support order.

Taglang said that after the check was returned he wrote Allen a letter asking him to pay or face prosecution. When he received no answer, Taglang turned the case over to the district attorney's office and a warrant was issued for Allen's arrest.

Allen was arraigned before Alderman Dudley Y. Schwab. He will have a preliminary hearing this morning.

SPCA Animal Shelter Will Reopen On Sept. 1

OFFICIALS of the Monroe County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals announced yesterday the society's animal shelter on Foxtown Hill would re-open on Sept. 1. It will be under the full-time supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Niper.

Local Man Held In Easton Jail

JAMES B. Allen, 24, of 230 Colbert St., Stroudsburg, was being held in Northampton County Prison at Easton in default of $300 bail yesterday, charged with issuing a $65 worthless check for monthly support payments for his two children.

Joseph J. Taglang, Northampton County probation and domestic relations officer, said he received the check, drawn on the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., Stroudsburg, on July 11. It was returned to the probation officer a week later with a note informing Taglang that Allen's account contained insufficient funds to cover the check.

Allen had been ordered to pay $65 a month for the children's support, with part of the payment to be applied to an amount he owed on a previous support order.

Allen was arraigned before Alderman Dudley Y. Schwab. He will have a preliminary hearing this morning.

New Concepts In Modern Mathematics

NEW concepts in modern mathematics will be the main difference in the junior high school curriculum for East Stroudsburg Area Joint students.

There will be more emphasis on the meaning of mathematics and usage rather than a rote method of committing information to memory.

A new teacher will be introduced to the seventh and eighth grade students for English and history. David Terrill will join the teaching staff at East Stroudsburg Area Joint Junior High School on opening day.

BARRETT — The solo, "The Voice In The Wilderness," will be sung by Mrs. John Nauman at the special anniversary services in Sunday, Aug. 19.

The worship services will be Mountaintop Methodist Church, held at 9:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. with Rev. Robert Acheson, pastor of the Pittman Methodist Church as guest minister.

The senior choir will also present the anthem, "The Heavens Are Telling" in honor of the 108th anniversary celebration.

School To Open Sept. 4

STROUDSBURG — T. E. Banks, principal of the Seventh-Day Adventist School announced that the school would open Sept. 4 for the 1962-1963 school term.

There have been no changes in the teaching staff for the one through eighth grades. But, Banks said, there will be courses offered to seventh and eighth grade students in home economics and vocational courses.

This will be the beginning of the sixth year in the new school building on W. Main St., with approximately 30 children enrolled.

Three New Courses At ESSC

THREE new graduate courses are being offered by East Stroudsburg State College this fall, according to Dr. Frank Sills, director of graduate studies.

One course will be in Cytology in the science department under the instruction of W. G. Moore. It will be held every Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. and will consist of both lectures and laboratory work.

"Conduct of Foreign Relations" is the title of another subject offered this year. Dr. Kurt Wimer will be the instructor. Classes will start at 7 p.m. every Thursday.

These figures were acquired from more than 700 students who submitted detailed day-by-day records of their expenses for one semester.

Other average expenditures, according to the survey, revealed:

$25 ESSC Tuition Hike Small Compared To Others

THE $25-a-year tuition increase at East Stroudsburg State College this year is only a drop in the bucket compared to the usual hikes in fees at colleges across the country. Normal increases range from $80 to $200.

And the cost of tuition is only a drop in the bucket compared to total expenses.

According to a detailed study made several years ago at the University of Illinois, tuition plus required fees averaged $140. However, total expenses averaged $1,500 a year.

So there can be no set answer to the question: "How much does it cost to go to college?" It may well be answered with another question: "How much do you want to spend?"

May Skimp By

A student may skimp by as little as $600-$700 a year if he lives at home and attends a public college or university. Yet another may travel across the continent to attend an expensive private school, drive his own car, carry on an extensive social life and find his expenditures totalling more than $4,000 a year.

Money for a college education stems from three main sources, according to the survey: (1) earnings from employment, scholarships, GI Bill benefits, grants-in-aid; (2) assistance from parents, relatives or friends; and (3) liquidation of assets, savings and loans.

It was pointed out, however, that more than 20 per cent of students at some state universities are working their way completely through college, with no help from parents, loans, scholarships or friends.

The first day of school will be Sept. 4. There are to be no changes in the bus schedules as they were approved from last term.

Two new teachers have been added to the staff. Mrs. Kathy James will teach home economics in the high school. Miss Joyce Brady will be teaching physical education.

Total student enrollment of last year's 1,625 is expected to remain about the same. Slightly more than 300 students from Monroe County also are expected for enrollment this year. There were 234 Monroe students during the 1961-62 term.

Tuition fees at the college have been raised to $125 a year—a $25 increase over last year's cost. Remaining the same, however, are the $40 yearly activity fee and the $612 annual cost for room, board and laundry. The latter cost is based on a weekly rate of $17 covering a 36-week period.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's two senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate invoked its cloture rule and limited further debate on the communication satellite bill. The vote was 63-37.

317 Enrolled At Pleasant Valley Joint

BRODHEADSVILLE — A total of 817 students are enrolled in the Pleasant Valley Joint Schools. John Mills, supervising principal, and Wally Butz, principal announced yesterday.

Classes will start at the college Sept. 7 this year, with student registration being held Sept. 5 and 6.

How To Use Water To END YOUR CONSTIPATION WORRIES

Here's how to get to the root of your constipation problem. Bring enough moisture to your lower colon every day. When food wastes are normally moistened, they will "move" as they should.

So do this. Take SERUTAN every day with plenty of water. SERUTAN is a pure vegetable gel that carries and holds water in your lower digestive tract to promote more normal regularity.

SERUTAN provides the proper moisture, bulk and peristaltic action to help keep you regular. This is utterly different from harsh chemical laxatives which may dry you out.

Get SERUTAN. Take as directed and enjoy daily regularity or money back from the maker.

13 Teachers Are Added To Stroud Union Staff

STROUDSBURG — A total of 13 new teachers have been added to the staff at Stroud Union High School, Earl Groner, district superintendent announced. The sessions will open Sept. 5.

In the secondary system, there will be 10 teachers. Two, Miss Abbie Jane Frisbie, music teacher, and George Metropolis, physical education, will teach in all of the elementary schools.

Joining the secondary staff will be Thomas A. Barrow, Mrs. Elaine Cole, Morris W. Frace, Mrs. Helen Greh, Mrs. Harriet Hantjis, Gerald J. Heckman and Mrs. Lois Heller.

Richard Manheim, John K. Meixell, Mrs. Rosemary Schwartz, Mrs. Roberta Thomas, Mrs. Jacqueline Witman and Mrs. Katherine Zeigler will also be on the staff.

In the elementary system, Mrs. June Barnight, Mrs. Alice Brommer, John S. Bubel, Mrs. John Burrus, Mrs. Paul Lim, Mrs. William Roeder, Mrs. Max Shoemaker and Robert Wolbert will join the staff.

Woodrow Berger will take the position of principal of Hamilton School. Mrs. Robert Stern will be the new elementary school nurse.

Ditches that surrounded Neolithic settlements in Italy have long since been filled, yet the 4,000-year-old pattern is still visible from the air.

500 Set For Pocono Catholic

CRESCO — Approximately 500 students will attend the opening day of the Pocono Catholic Mission School. The second year of high school will open this year with students from the ninth grade last year.

Bus routes will remain the same, with the exception of a bus which will bring children from Stroudsburg to the high school classes.

The school is staffed by the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary with the Mother House at Marywood, Scranton.

Rev. Robert Galligan is in charge of the school, assisted by Rev. William Cusick and Rev. John Walsh.

Special holidays will be announced during the school term.

This year, hundreds of thousands of tourists from abroad are coming to the United States. When you meet any of these visitors, offer them traditional American warmth and hospitality. Help them locate the places of interest, shops, hotels and transportation they're looking for. If you don't know the answer, find somebody who does. It's simply a matter of helping them enjoy their vacation here. Remember, friendly Americans win America friends!

Building Changes At SU

The new addition at Morey School also contains a new library, while the conversion of the original building at Hamilton School will return the library to its proper use.

For the past several years the office, the library and nurse's room have been used for classes in the Hamilton building. The new building makes it possible to restore all of these facilities to their original use.

The building project at Morey School includes complete renovation of the heating and ventilating system in the original building. New lighting has been added to the hall of the original building.

A new kindergarten has been constructed in the Clearview School which will serve the Clearview-Anomalink areas and also relieve overcrowding of the kindergarten at Ramsey School. Mrs. Jean Lee, who formerly taught at Ramsey School, has been transferred to this kindergarten as teacher. A classroom is being constructed from the room used by Mrs. Gearhart and an unused shower room.

There are numerous other repairs and construction of a minor nature in several of the other buildings.

— In The Daily Record

STROUD UNION—"High school on the hill" the line from the alma mater says. This year, the school on W. Main St., will open for one of the largest enrollments to date.

The brick building, built in 1929, has no major additions since the building project just a few years ago.

Improvement Of Reading SU Goal

CONTINUED emphasis will be placed on the improvement of reading instruction in Stroud Union elementary schools. Dr. Agatha Townsend, the reading consultant who came to this school district last year, has been retained for a second day per week for the coming year. Dr. Townsend is assisting classroom teachers with their problems in the language-arts area and will supervise the reading program in the elementary schools.

There will be considerable experiments this year with techniques in modern mathematics. Several classes have been selected to try new materials and there will be a system-wide study of modern mathematics.

Continued emphasis is being placed on the teaching of science in the elementary schools. Stroud Union Elementary Schools have agreed to cooperate with the Department of Public Instruction in developing materials for the Pennsylvania Science Writers Conference. This group is under the direction of Dr. Albert F. Ells.

Teachers will be testing materials which are being produced by the writing conference and will be writing their reactions to them. Through this means the Department of Public Instruction is working toward the establishment of a scope and sequence in elementary science.

Additional Half-Day Kindergarten

THERE will be an additional half-day kindergarten in the Morey Elementary School, Stroudsburg. This class will be taught by Mrs. James Sheeley. The addition of this class will relieve the heavy enrollment in the Morey School kindergarten.

Both of the elementary special classes have been transferred to the Morey School. This move will centralize all special classes and facilitate transportation of both elementary and high school special classes. The transfer will also provide more adequate space for these classes.

Languages Paying Off

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Richmond's first public school pupils to take nine years of foreign language find that it is paying off. They were graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in 1961 after nine years of French and a survey showed all of the 15 who responded to inquiries were in advanced college courses and doing well.

The present-day Seneca population numbers about 4,200 Indians.

Building Reactor

MOSCOW (AP) — The Tass news agency says the world's largest nuclear reactor is under construction at the Soviet Union's Voronezh atomic power station. Tass said the first 210,000-kilowatt section of the unit soon will go into operation.

Special holidays will be announced during the school term.

Back To School In Three Weeks

BACK to school daze begins in another three weeks, playgrounds will close and swings will be taken down. The pools will be drained and bathing suits put away.

The most impressive thing about the back to school season is that peculiar aroma of newly oiled floors and disinfectant that kills germs on contact and makes pupils sneeze on arrival.

Among those special smells are the ones from new text books, pots of paste, boxes of crayons and chalk. Then, the combination of the leather smell from the new shoes for school combined with the perky feeling they give one's feet.

Monroe County students will return to school in larger numbers than ever this fall. They will be attending new schools and newly-renovated schools. Changes have been made in many areas. The physical changes in a school are nearly as interesting as the new faces.

New Families

During the summer, there were families who moved into the area with children. They will join last year's students in September to begin the process of learning.

Among new faces also will be those of new teachers. And, to further add to the interest and fascination, there will be an array of new teaching methods and a different approach to old subjects that will keep students on the edge of their seats.

The space age will bring the newspapers into the classrooms with a greater frequency than before and children in the elementary system will be interested in the coming elections. These children have been introduced to news and the world around them by way of television since they were pre-school age.

Liberal Education

Now, the usual three R's have to include a liberal education in current events even for the younger students since they are better informed and have a wider range of information and background than even last year's elementary children.

The inception of language classes for the lower grades which has been discussed will be introduced in a number of schools this year. There will be new teaching aids and a general atmosphere of stepping-up the speed of teaching material in addition to the greater amount of material used.

Dry, Ready

All over the county, teachers will be learning that their students have sponges for minds, dry and ready to soak up every drop of information of all subjects.

Some children will put on an air of nonchalance about going back to school, but a peek around an available corner on the first day will prove that there is no child standing on the sidelines of welcoming other classmates back to school or making friends with the new children.

The anticipatory gleam in children's eyes may be brighter in some eyes than in others, but the overall picture of Monroe County come September will be that of children eager to catch the bus or walk to school, carrying a new pencil box or notebook, full of empty pages and just dying for something to write in it.

The teachers, who have been busy over the summer with classes and summer sessions and administrator who work all-year-round, will view the September sessions with a shade less anticipation unless it would be based on the feeling that now they will see their plans applied.

Mixed Emotions

The first day of school will certainly be greeted with mixed emotions, but relief is one of the greatest for mothers everywhere. Now, the children will have someone to ask questions of, who will have some answers ready.

New Stroud Union Jr. High Idea

MEMBERS of the junior high student body at Stroud Union High School will be able to avail themselves of a new idea in the teaching of modern language this fall.

The teaching of French, Spanish and German has been extended to the junior high level. Earl Groner, district superintendent said.

In addition to changes in the language department, there will be changes in the teaching of mathematics. There will be more emphasis on the modern uses of the age-old numbers and students will be made aware of the importance of mathematics as a science.

Anniversary Of V-J Day Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The surrender of Japan, ending fighting in World War II, was announced 15 years ago Tuesday.

The anniversary passed without official note in the nation's capital. The formal end of the war, the signing of the surrender documents aboard the battleship Missouri, came on Sept. 2, 1945.

Kindergarten At PM Schools

SWIFTWATER — James Davenport, elementary supervisor of the Pocono Mountain Joint School District, announced the Kindergarten schedule for 1962-1963 yesterday.

There will be kindergarten classes held in the Pocono, Barrett, Coolbaugh and Tobyhanna Elementary Centers. New teachers will welcome the children and their mothers on Sept. 5, when there will be a "get-acquainted" session.

Mrs. Dorothy Martin will teach at Pocono Elementary Center; Mrs. Ruth Guida, Barrett; Mrs. Joan Gray, Coolbaugh and Miss Marlene Kleinhans, Tobyhanna.

New Elementary Teachers

SWIFTWATER — The new teachers who will participate in the orientation sessions at Pocono Mountain Joint Elementary School Centers Sept. 4 were announced yesterday by James Davenport, elementary supervisor.

Mrs. Virginia Ganizhorn will teach at Barrett elementary. The fifth grades at Barrett will be taught by Mrs. Karen Adams and Joseph Ofal.

At Pocono Elementary Center, Mrs. Dorothy Martin, Mrs. Virginia Arndt and John Ruehman will welcome their classes on Sept. 5.

Coolbaugh teaching changes include Mrs. Elizabeth Noone and Thomas Savage. Mrs. Noone will teach grade three and Savage, grade 5.

George Tensa will teach fifth grade in Tobyhanna Elementary Center.

Ships carrying 63.6 million tons of cargo used the Panama Canal in 1961, a record.

The children are to be taken to the first day's session by a parent as there will be no bus service. The bus service will be in effect after the first day.

Arrangements have been made for kindergarten pupils who attend the morning session from 9:15 a.m. to 12 noon, to eat lunch in the school cafeteria. The afternoon session will begin at 12:45 p.m. and end at 3:30.

The total enrollment of the schools' kindergarten classes is 200. Double sessions will be held in the Barrett, Coolbaugh and Pocono Centers.

Children are to be put on the bus for sessions and met at the bus stop following sessions by a parent or guardian. The rule was passed by the Pocono Mountain Joint School Committee as a safety measure.

Letters have been mailed to all parents of kindergarten children informing them of the first day's session.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

Who said I don't have a fairy god-mother? A couple of them in fact. As tangible evidence I found two gifts on my desk: a bottle of "Golf Pills" guaranteed to cure "hookshot and sclerosis", and a brand new golf ball, both wishing me luck at the Cliff Park Invitational Tournament at Milford.

Luck and a lot of just plain nerve is what Kay Tarr and I needed to play in anybody's tournament let alone among strangers; but with all the good golfers tied up with the York Women's visit, we were the only ones available.

So, up at the break of day and chewing Golf Pills all the way to Milford, we stopped in at Irma Titus's so early nobody had even had breakfast. (Incidentally, the Tituses are in the process of getting ready to move to Stroudsburg next week which is good news for everybody of all ages, since four of the children will be entering school here.)

At Cliff Park Golf Club there were about 50 women milling about and a committee with name tags, each with a little spray of flowers, and the most professional looking golf clothes.

The Baby's Named!

Eugene Plaza, son of Mrs. Teresa Plaza and the late Eugene Plaza, Marshalls Creek, took as his bride Miss Nancy Jean Pekala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Pekala, of 233 Main St., Fern Glen.

They were married in St. Joseph's R. C. Church, Nuremberg on Saturday at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Joseph F. Meier, who also celebrated the nuptial mass after the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a colonial gown of white Italian silk bombe and French clipped Alencon lace. The fitted torso bodice had a scalloped bateau neckline and short sleeves. The bell skirt had clipped Alencon lace cascades over the hipline, falling into a chapel length train. Her elbow-length four-tiered veil of English illusion puffed from a flat pillow box crown of orange blossoms. She carried a circular bouquet of pink and white rosebuds centered with a white orchid and white stephanotis.

Miss Marie Walsh of Old Forge, as maid of honor, wore a cocktail length gown of silk organza over taffeta with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and short sleeves.

The bell skirt was fastened at one side of the hemline and at the waist with a blue satin rose. A ballet blue crown outlined with seed pearls and pearl drops was centered with a small cabbage rose.

She carried a white basket filled with light pink carnations and sprays of ivy.

Mrs. Donald Pekala of West Hazleton, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Joanne Pekala, Fern Glen, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Their gowns were similar to the maid of honor, and they carried white baskets filled with yellow carnations and sprays of ivy.

Edward James Klimber, Marshall's Creek, was best man. Ushers were Donald Pekala, brother of the bride, and Gary Lewis.

Mrs. Olive Fedrigon was organist. Miss Pauline Gottstein, soloist, sang "Mother Beloved", "Pan-Angelicus", "Jesus Thou Art Coming", "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling".

The bride's mother wore a toast colored silk chiffon cocktail dress with fitted bodice, square draped neckline fastened with rhinestone pins and sheath skirt. She wore a champagne colored hat, matching pumps. The bridegroom's mother wore a cocktail-length dress of aqua silk organza with fitted bodice, bateau neckline, short sleeves and a sheath skirt with

Mrs. Gutman Feted by Former VFW Coworkers

Mrs. Jeanne Gutman, one of the leading spirits in the original Veterans of Foreign Wars Aux., was the guest of honor at a party of former co-workers in the auxiliary during her recent visit to this community.

Mrs. Georgia Albertson was host to the group at an out-door barbecue at her home when they exchanged reminiscences of the first years of the organization and caught up on the news of the intervening years.

Present were Margaret Fritz, Bertha Muir, Lydia Christensen, Frances Ransberger, Muriel Hughes, Hazel Ellender, Sadie Decker, Mary Arnold, Ida Mae Staples, Dorothy Ellender, Mrs. Howard Kerrick, Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Peter Hawk, Mrs. William Warner, Mrs. Robert Keiper, Miss Beverly Keiper, Mrs. Elsie Eckley, Mrs. Darlene Pauff, Mrs. Howard Kerrick, Mrs. Grace Bush and Mrs. William Kerrick, Stoddartsville.

Secret gift parcels were distributed at the meeting during the social hour when Mrs. Scarfoss served refreshments to Mrs. Daniel Starner and granddaughter, Mrs. June Kerrick, Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Peter Hawk, Mrs. William Warner, Mrs. Robert Keiper, Miss Beverly Keiper, Mrs. Elsie Eckley, Mrs. Darlene Pauff, Mrs. Howard Kerrick, Mrs. Grace Bush and Mrs. William Kerrick.

The menu for the turkey supper was planned to include turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, Lima beans, spiced cabbage, tomatoes, carrot and celery sticks, homemade pies, coffee, tea and milk.

The opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. William Warner, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. Allen Waltz presided at the business meeting when a substantial balance was reported in the treasury.

Has 100th Birthday Anniversary Today

Thousands Honor Stagg In Celebration Across U.S.

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg will not be coaching football on his 100th birthday Thursday as he hoped. But thousands will honor him at a dozen centennial birthday parties from Massachusetts to California.

He quit coaching football at 98 after 71 consecutive years.

They've been celebrating Stagg's birthdays here for 10 years. But this is the first nationwide birthday celebration for the man who helped develop 1,200 coaches, including Navy's Wayne Hardin, the late Red Sanders of UCLA, retired Fritz Crisler of Michigan and Jesse Harper of Notre Dame.

Many Distinctions

That is only one of the many distinctions for Stagg, an all-around athlete who wanted to be a preacher.

He was one of the founders of the modern Olympics at Athens in 1906. He was a founder of the National College Athletic Association, an initiator of the Big Ten, creator of the first collegiate block letter society—at the University of Chicago—and inventor of the trough at the side of all modern swimming pools.

Stagg shot golf in the 70s, played tennis until he was 95 and walked a mile every day until shortly before he retired to a Stockton rest home this year. But he may not be able to make the 11th annual Stagg birthday dinner party here, where they'll cut a

Froehling, Dell Takes Matches

MOSCOW (AP)—Frank Froehling and Donald Dell of the United States won third round matches in the Moscow Tennis Tournament Wednesday, but an American star lost in women's play.

Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Owen Davidson of Australia, 7-9, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3, 7-5. Dell, of Bethesda, Md., beat Bogdan Manevsky of Poland, 6-2, 6-10, 6-4.

Bowling Meeting

HARMON'S Ladies' League will hold a bowling meeting Friday, Aug. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at Harmon's Recreation Center in Washington, D.C., plans a "Stagg Sports Spectacular" dinner later.

Seattle will hold a Stagg dinner Friday. And the Touchdown Club in Washington, D.C., plans a "Stagg Sports Spectacular" dinner later.

Fights Erupt After Cuban P. R. Contests

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Officials of the Central American and Caribbean Games—who had hoped to avoid incidents in the two-weeks event—kept nervous eyes on the Cuban athletes fearing new violence.

With the games only two days old, the Cubans already have been involved in one brawl. Further, their entire weightlifting team and its coach has defected to the United States because, "We could not represent a system that has caused the ruin of our country,"

The games organizers met yesterday to plan ways and means of keeping order, but one official unhappily admitted that "it will be very difficult."

A bitter free-for-all broke out Tuesday among spectators at the Cuba-Puerto Rico baseball games won by Puerto Rico 4-3. A riot squad finally put down the disturbance. There were numerous bloody noses, sunken diamond and playfield and worth about $2 million.

That typifies the spirit. He gave much more than he received."

Bushier estimated that about 5,000 would attend the dinners. They start Wednesday night at Chicago, where Stagg coached from 1892 until he was forced to quit at 70—the University's mandatory retirement age.

A player on the Cuban team said a group of exiled Cubans in the crowd started the riot and fought on the side of the Puerto Ricans.

Cuban weight lifting coach Julio Cespedes said in Miami that he and his four men—Ignacio Herrera, Sergio Oliva, Juan Torres and Geraldo Diaz—defected because they opposed representing "world socialism."

He said Fidel Castro told the Cuban athletes they were "not going to Kingston just to fight for Cuba—not going just to win medals but as representatives of socialism of the entire world."

"We could not represent a system that has caused the ruin of our country," Cespedes said.

The promoters had hoped to show a few minutes of the fight live to Europe and America via the satellite. Some observers here felt it was just as well that the deal didn't go through as the champion from America is an overwhelming favorite to beat the inexperienced, non-ranked Finn in Scandinavia's first world title fight.

Officials blamed the blowup of the nearly completed deal on Sweden's state radio and television authorities. Sweden has barred live fight telecasts on all grounds and has not even made an exception for Ingemar Johansson, a native son who held the world heavyweight crown.

Because of technical reasons, a television hookup from Finland to Europe's Eurovision network has to be made via Sweden's network. The Swedish authorities refused to handle the fight, the promoters said.

Maeki, 25, never has gone more than 10 rounds in his 10 pro fights. Experts doubt whether he will be able to go the full 15 against the experienced, hard-hitting 28-year-old American.

The Finn, known as the merry baker, never has been knocked down in his 250 amateur and 10 pro fights. He has an 8-1 pro record, with no knockouts to his credit. His lone defeat was to Howard Winstone, the British featherweight champion.

Moore will be making the fifth defense of the crown he won by knocking out Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey in the 13th round, March 18, 1959. His record is 55-6-1, including 27 knockouts.

One of the most hectic seasons in PML's history appears to be over.

On Sunday, Aug. 19, starting at 1:30 p.m., the Pocono Mountains Sports Club will hold a "Hare and Hound" rally.

This offbeat form of rally is easy and designed for fun rather than on navigational skills.

Starting out half an hour or so before the first competing car, the rallymaster, or "hare," marks the course by dropping "torpedoes" of powdered lime. The object of this game is to follow the hare's route and finish with the lowest possible mileage recorded.

At the rallymaster leaves his markings only after the turns, the "hounds" will have to do a lot of investigatory footwork at the intersections in order not to accumulate extra distance on their odometers. In addition, care will be required to maintain an average speed.

Drivers and navigators will report at 1:30 p.m. at the Ronson Corp. in Delaware Water Gap. Following the event trophies will be awarded at Kittatinny Beach, N.J.

It's all but official now that West End will reign as kings of the Pocono Mountain League.

Not only did their defeat of Saylorburg last Sunday by the score of 6-2 give them a full-gram through donations and were

Fetherman, newly elected president of the Varsity "S" Association, is urging all members of the club to attend the regular monthly meeting tonight at the Stroudsburg firehouse.

Fetherman said the meeting will be important in that views on the Junior Football program will be discussed as well as a number of other vital issues.

Selection of personnel to serve on committees for the coming year will be made at the meeting.

In addition to club members, an invitation is extended to fathers of boys participating in athletic events at Stroud Union High.

The new chief feels that the projects undertaken by the Varsity "S" are community projects. In the past, the people of the community have supported these programs through donations and were

Fetherman now asks further support in that he would like to see all people who are interested in the Varsity "S" to attend tonight's meeting which gets under way at 8 p.m.

The speaker at this meeting will be Dr. Burt Musser.

The next meeting of the Pocono Turf Grass Association will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 21, at the Scranton Canoe Club, Scranton, with Arthur Brown as host.

'Golden Glove' Davenport Now In There Hitting, Too

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Spectacular fielding won Jim Davenport his place with the Giants when they first arrived in San Francisco. Now he's staying in there with the bat, too.

Davenport has paced the National League third basemen in fielding for the past three seasons. Now he's one of the batting leaders and a member of the all-star squads to boot.

First Inning Rally Gives VFW 4-2 Win

V.F.W. rallied for three runs in the first inning yesterday to defeat Wyckoff-Sears 4-2 in Stroudsburg Little League contest.

The winners rapped out 7 hits from loser Torzillo to collect the victory.

Meanwhile, W. Pula was holding Wyckoff to two scattered hits.

V.F.W. scored a single tally in the third after W-S pushed across two runs in the bottom of the first to narrow the margin.

Line Material Halts Coates In Softball

LINE Material halted Coates Board and Carton Co. 4-2 in Monroe County Industrial Softball League as J. Hahn held the losers to four hits.

The winners collected six bingles off P. Turner as they tallied two runs in the first and two more in the fifth frame.

L. M.'s Hineline, with 3-for-3, cracked out a homer and triple to pace all hitters.

Bells Will Ring For 50 Million

SCHOOL bells will soon be calling an estimated 50 million students back to school.

Over a million youngsters will be enrolling into classes for the first time, and the balance of this number will go to primary, intermediate and high school classes around the nation.

Again school reopening focuses attention on increased enrollments, shortage of properly trained faculty and lack of proper school housing.

Although these problems have been rectified in many communities, others are still facing them.

Since our nation's beginnings education has been an important facet of the American way of life.

The foundations of the modern American educational system were laid by the Calvinist Puritans of New England. In 1642 the Legislature of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, faithful to the Protestant principle that every one should be able to read the Bible — passed a law requiring all parents, in towns within its jurisdiction, to give their children an elementary education.

And so throughout our early history, more and more schools were established by local law. As the frontiers moved westward, settlers created their own schools for their children.

Although early schools were set up by church groups, which also controlled them, by the end of the American Revolution these schools were made independent of the churches. By the 19th century, a system of decentralized control was set up.

Several attempts to establish a national system of education over the years were unsuccessful since the decentralized control of schools was well-established throughout the country.

When the Tenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution was adopted giving the individual States all powers not reserved by the Federal Government, the foundation was laid to establish state-controlled school systems.

In turn, the state systems evolved into units of state, county and later, city school systems.

Evolved In 20th

The free public school system as we know it now, actually evolved in the 20th century.

In most states up to the Civil War and for several decades thereafter, parents paid for their children's schooling. Children of paupers were given free education, but wholly on a charity basis.

This concept too was changed by the end of the 19th century when states required local administrations to tax themselves for the full support of public schools and all children within the school area.

The system we know now came into being in the twentieth century. A far cry from its humble beginnings in the early days of the colonies, support for our free public school systems come from local property taxes (two thirds) with the balance being made up of monies contributed by the state (from taxes) from permanent state school funds and some federal aid.

As enrollments continue to grow in all types of schools around the country, the problem facing school systems is not all economic.

Never in the history of the nation has there been so much awareness of the importance of learning, not only for the individual but also with relation to the immediate future of our civilization.

Faces Scrutiny

Today the curriculum of schools faces scrutiny and inventory as new frontiers opened up by the space age are creating far greater demands for knowledge and skills than ever before.

The average citizen has found that there are many channels open for intelligent discussion and activities concerning the betterment of the school systems and their curricula.

Children as well as adults are imbued with the revitalization of serious interest in education. A growing pride in scholastic standing appears to be developing even among the children in elementary schools.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

A friend, who must be a millionaire many times over, once remarked to me, "There is a great difference, Mrs. Maloney, between being penny-pinching and dollar-wise. The first can often be costly. The second never is."

I was reminded of this yesterday when Bill Wells introduced me to Mighty-Mac, the finest name in boys' outerwear, new to our Wyckoff racks. "It's expensive," Bill warned, "but worth every cent. Last Christmas we carried a few styles, and they moved so well we now stock the complete line."

Mighty-Mac's label shows a rugged seaman at the wheel of his fishing boat. This is most appropriate, for Mighty-Mac is "out of Gloucester," and is credited with having made the original sou'westers. Fabrics in use today include Melton Cloth, Astro Cloth, wide wale corduroy, a new fabric of unusual strength and resilience called "Dunka Cloth," and many others exclusive with the manufacturer. These garments are washable, and luxuriantly pile lined. Other features include: elastic within the sleeves to which glove clips are attached . . . knitted wind breakers in the sleeves . . . unusual, good-looking buttons, showing the fisherman in bold relief . . . an extra flap of cloth to be firmly buttoned down over the extra-heavy zipper, so that no wind or cold can possibly penetrate the closure . . . and hoods that can be adjusted across the crown and around the neck so that one is practically "vacuum packed" against temperature or storm.

All this costs money. In sizes 6 to 20, Mighty-Mac sells from 22.95 to 35.00. But it's marvelous wear for any early rising lad with a newspaper route . . . any boy faced with a long trek to school . . . the boy who catches cold readily, or who has a health condition that makes winter both a misery and a menace . . . or just any boy, warmly loved by parents who demand the best for him. YOUR boy!

But let's not forget the small boy. Wyckoff's is ready to outfit him too, for nursery school, kindergarten, or the grades! Carrie Rusk has added. Little Farahs "made to fit your little fellow" to our already bulging displays of slacks and you'll find them, sizes 3 to 7, in boxer style corduroys, Fara Gabs, and a textured fabric called Rambl '62 priced from 1.98 to 3.98. Roys wear, another big name with us, is available in 420 nylon, rayon flannel, and dressy, fully lined flannel, at 3.98, 2.98, and 5.00, respectively. And all of these are handsome with Donmoor sweaters of orlon. In a 3 to 6 range, we have Donmoors of snowy white and in color. Carrie's favorite is a grey cardigan with shadow plaid of black and white, at 4.98.

Then there are corduroy suits by Esquire, Jr., in matching slacks, brass buttoned vest and jacket at 10.98, and Esquire Jr., slacks sets of wide wale corduroy with coordinated striped cotton shirts at 5.98. Colors are handsome! But the cutest suit of all, under the same fine label, combines navy corduroy slacks, white shirt, navy and white hounds-tooth jacket and bow tie of corduroy, all for 5.98. There's no bone of contention here! That hound sank his teeth deep into fashion, and we double check him for good taste!

CAMEL and GREY FOR FALL

a. Two classic tones team up for a soft, subtle, but very smart look for a girl's Back-to-School wardrobe . . . either of these colors looks great alone . . . or paired with the other! a. Jantzen knits a soft 100% orlon acrylic slip-over sweater in camel, 4.98 . . . and mates it with wool slacks, in either camel or gray, 6.98. b. It's the great look of the great raccoon collared camel coat, for 29.98. Wonderfully lined, and flap pockets. c. Again, a classic look in the oxford button-down shirt, 2.98 worn with a lightly pleated skirt of camel and grey plaid, only 7.98. Girls sizes 7 to 14.

Prepare
For Higher Education

WHEN school bells ring announcing a new term of school and young children start off to their classes — that's when their parents should take inventory of their plans for their off-spring's future education.

Will the children go to college and can parents provide for further education?

Tuition and living costs at schools are rising constantly. In order for children from families of average means to plan for college, the financial foundation for college education must be laid soundly and early.

There are various methods for establishing funds for college education.

A life insurance plan, at moderate monthly costs, can be one method. Planned savings in a bank or savings and loan association are also practical plans.

Endowment policies planned on the basis of 10 or 15 years, (according to the age of the youngster when started), is a popular insurance-savings plan with many parents.

Regular purchases of U.S. Savings bonds is another plan for accruing funds for college.

Introduced several years ago, and gaining in popularity are College Savings Clubs that function the way Christmas and Vacation Savings clubs do... regular deposits for a specific goal.

"Just Save"

It's possible, of course, to "just save" for a child's future education, but the average family finds that they save most successfully when they have a formal, planned basis.

In any savings plan for a child's future education, it's always wise to make the youngster a "partner" in the savings program. As the child gets older and begins to earn money on his own for odd jobs and chores, he should be encouraged to deposit some of his earnings to the "general fund."

This will give the child an important sense of participation and add to his incentive.

The younger the children are when savings funds are started, the less wear and tear on the family budget over the years ahead.

Discuss your plans with an officer at your bank or with a reliable insurance agent; they are qualified advisers to help with the right plan for you.

Women Go To School Longer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau says women go to school longer than men, on the average, but more men complete four years of college.

The Census Bureau said its house-to-house canvas of 1960 showed that the median amount of schooling for women at that time was 10.9 years, compared with 10.3 years for men. However, 4.6 million men had completed college, compared with 3 million women.

Good Health Important To Scholarship

GOOD health is an important adjunct to good scholarship.

Eyesight, hearing and teeth should be carefully checked before any student starts off to school after the vacation period.

A complete physical check-up to see that a child is healthy is a pre-school requisite.

A child with any acute or chronic disorder can not be expected to adjust to normal school conditions. A child who can not see the blackboard or hear his teacher or fellow students, may develop poor habits which will make him a poor student.

Don't forget the child's teeth. Plan an early visit to the dentist; have needed dental work done well ahead of school opening.

Be sure that the youngster has all essential preventative vaccine shots.

Check With Doctor

Check with the doctor on what's new and necessary.

Plan appointments for each of the children in the family well in advance of school opening. Be sure ample time is available for proper care and treatment of physical and emotional problems.

Don't overlook securing professional help for the child who sucks his thumb, wets his bed, or dawdles over food and chores. Some of these problems are emotional, others have a physical origin.

A thorough examination will check how normal are the child's eyes, ears, throat, sinuses, tonsils, heart and other organs.

Healthy feet and good posture are important, too — for all of these are important to a child's well-being.

Reasons Why Students Drop Out Of School

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Why do students drop out of high school? A study by the Dade County — Miami and environs — public schools discloses these primary reasons, in order of frequency:

1. Not interested in school.

2. Discouraged by lack of success.

3. Excess of absence or truancy.

Three causes shared fourth place in the survey: entering verified employment, enlisted in the armed forces and marriage.

Next in order were "inability to adjust to school" and "needed at home."

The findings are based on the first year of a three-year survey, which is in its second year.

Every fifth 10th grader, alphabetically, was chosen for the study last year.

There was another sampling of seventh graders, but this study is concerned with "involuntary withdrawals" such as transfers.

Nearly 5,000 students are included in the two surveys.

Prying Further

Jonathan Gillingham, director of the dropout study, explained that officials are prying further into the causes. For example, why "not interested in school"?

The first year study showed that boys and girls were about even in giving the "not interested" reason. But boys outnumbered girls, 15 to 3, in discouragement by lack of success. Only girls were affected by marriage. Boys predominated in the "inability to adjust" category.

The guidance department takes over when a student drops out. Many, particularly married girls, are induced to attend adult school, including vocational and other courses.

But the dropout survey is a fact-finding project only, and plans have not been formulated to follow through by helping students who leave school find jobs or make adjustments. A course of action will be determined after completion of the three-year study, Gillingham said.

Long Range Plans In Languages

SWIFTWATER — Long range plans in modern languages have been announced by C. Willis Dunlap, supervising principal of Pocano Mountain Joint School.

"French and Spanish I will be offered for one semester to members of the seventh grade this year," Dunlap said. "Each subject will be taught one semester during the 1962-1963 school term."

The next step of the plan, Dunlap pointed out, will be to give Spanish I and French I in the eighth grade during the 1963-1964 school term, thus giving the students a full year of both subjects.

"In this manner," Dunlap said, "students will have been able to take five years of either language by the time he is ready to graduate."

Other accelerated courses will be advanced. Mechanical drawing will be offered. The present shop, home economics and art courses, will be enlarged. For members of the tenth grade, driver training courses will be added to the curriculum.

Odd-Lot Transactions

By William A. Doyle

Q. I have read many articles to the effect that, beginning with and subsequent to the May 28 stock market crash, the "little fellows" have been selling their stocks at big losses and have not come back onto the market. I have heard and seen so-called experts expand on this on radio and television.

I know you never said this in your column. So I'm counting on you for one of your usual candid answers. Published reports of odd-lot trading on the New York Stock Exchange indicate that there has been much more odd-lot buying than odd-lot selling since May 28. How do those figures jibe with the views of the "experts"?

A. They don't, providing a pretty strong hint that the "experts" may be somewhat less expert than they would have people believe. Actually, there's no such thing as an expert on the stock market. There are only varying degrees of ignorance.

Odd-lot trading, of course, involves buying or selling stock in less than round lots. The total of all odd-lot buying or selling (from one to 99 shares) on the New York Stock Exchange is reported every day.

Because a small number of shares is involved in each odd-lot trade, the total volume of odd-lot buying and selling gives a good indication of whether small investors and traders in general are doing more buying or selling.

However, not all "little fellows" trade in odd lots. Many deal in round lots — generally of 100 shares.

Odd-lot trading figures show that on May 28 odd-lot sales of 1,117,841 shares ran well ahead of odd-lot purchases of 850,618 shares.

The next day odd-lot purchases amounted to 1,503,517 shares and odd-lot sales to 1,554,493. May 30 was the Memorial Day holiday.

But on May 31 odd-lot purchases soared to 1,904,534 shares, while odd-lot sales dropped to 644,999 shares.

Since then, odd-lot purchases have generally been much higher than odd-lot sales. For instance, during all of June and July, odd-lot sales were higher than odd-lot purchases on only five days.

Whether or not the "little fellows" sold odd lots of stock during this period is "big losses" will never be known. It's a cinch that some (perhaps most) of them bought their stocks years ago when the prices of most stocks were lower than they have been recently.

The trouble with too many self-styled "experts" is that they don't give the "little fellow" much credit for being smart.

Q. I own stock in a small company. The stock is not listed on any stock exchange. I have never received an earnings report, or any other report from the company. Isn't this a violation of Securities & Exchange Commission regulations?

A. Probably not. When a company's stock is listed on a stock exchange, the company is required to send reports to its stockholders. When a company's stock is not listed on a stock exchange but the company is either a registered investment company (mutual fund or such) or a public utility holding company, the company is required to send reports to its stockholders.

But for the vast majority of other companies, there is no such requirement at the present time. This is one of the things the SEC is looking into and on which the rules may be tightened before too long.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

PARENTS and kindergarten age children, will attend an Open House, Aug. 29, Mrs. Pauline Peterson, East Stroudsburg Area Joint Elementary Supervisor said.

The arrangements have been made for the afternoon session so that parents, children, teachers and bus-drivers will be able to become familiar with the school system and just what will be presented in relation to introducing the youngsters to school.

The session is in the form of an informal question and answer period at which time the teachers will discuss the proposed subjects and explain any routine to the parents which will aid the children in their first experience in school.

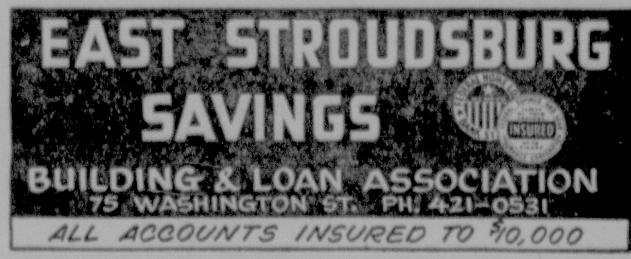

The parents and teachers will also have a chance to discuss the problems of any individual child and clear up any problems which may arise.
